Professional Development

With November comes the 2008 holiday season. With the holidays comes a lot of family festivities, parties, and get-togethers. This year, encourage a safe and healthy holiday season with this booklet from SAMHSA. The booklet includes tips for being a responsible host, “mocktail” recipes, and statistics on drunk driving.

Cheers! From AAA is another party planning guide with alcohol-free drink recipes and tips on keeping your guests safe at your party and on the road home.

Another great publication for parents is the Teen Party Guide, put out by AAA. This book gives parents tips on how to talk to their teen about drinking and questions to ask when they go to a friend’s or a party.

We hope that you and your families have a wonderful Thanksgiving!

Please Note:

Second is the Back in Stock section which includes items that were previously archived but are now available again. Next is the Archived/Out of Stock section. These items are out of stock at NCADI and the NPRC does not have any to distribute. Last are the Discontinued items. In this section are all items that can no longer be found and the NPRC has no copies of them. As always, copies of these materials may be available in the NPRC library collection. December 11, 2008 10:00-11:00 PST - Minimizing Language and Cultural Roadblocks

Hispanics and other nationalities are growing populations in the United States and unfortunately, language barriers often prevent law enforcement from performing their responsibilities safely and effectively. Not being able to understand and communicate during traffic stops and search warrants can only invite confusion and miscommunication if an officer is not familiar with a language. This growing problem can jeopardize the safety of an officer and his/her team. Register Here Please Note: Registration closes November 14 at 5:00pm EST.
